	Width of Cut, Inches,	Weight lbs.	Philadelphia.
No. 00. For smooth ground only, and grass not over three inches high. Easily worked by a young lady,	10	32	$15.00
No. 1. Easily worked by one man, on any ordinary ground, and in grass not over five inches high,	15	65	25.00
No. 1, Jr. (new). Same as No. 1, only cuts one inch narrower, and is lighter weight,	14	36	20.00
No. 2. Can be worked by one man, on smooth ground, in three-inch grass, and by two men, on rougher ground, in five-inch grass,	20	70	30.00
No. 2, Jr. (new). Light work for one man on fair ground,	16	40	25.00
No. 2½, or Pony Lawn Mower . Can be drawn by a light horse, and works well on ordinary ground, in grass not over six inches high. Horse walks on the cut grass, driver walks. (Extra charge for shafts and driver's seat.) The Pony of 1870 and 1871 was driven by chain gear; now cog gear is used,	20	290	90.00
No. 3. Requires a stout horse. It will do good work in four-inch grass; and will cut eight-inch grass, but not without showing the horse's tracks, as in this machine he must walk on the standing grass; the driver rides,	36	475	150.00

We recommend the No. 1 Jr. and No. 2 Jr. as being fully equal, in every respect, to the old style heavy machines, and requiring much less labor to use them. SEND FOR CIRCULAR GIVING FULL DESCRIPTION

SEASONS.

Sun enters ♈ Third Month 20, at 1h. 56m. A.M.; when Spring commences, and the days and nights are equal.

Sun enters ♋ Sixth Month 20, at 10h. 31m. A.M.; when Summer commences, and the longest day occurs.

Sun enters ♏ Ninth Month 22, at 0h. 52m. P.M.; when Autumn commences, and the days and nights are again equal.

Sun enters ♑ Twelfth Month 21, at 6h. 52m. A.M.; when Winter commences, and the shortest day occurs.

ECLIPSES.

IN the year 1872, there will be two Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon.

I. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, on the 22d of Fifth Month. This eclipse occurs before sunset, consequently invisible.

II. An annular Eclipse of the Sun, on the 5th of Sixth Month. Visible in Asia and the Pacific Ocean.

III. A partial Eclipse of the Moon, on the 15th of Eleventh Month, in the morning, beginning 12h. 1m. Middle, 12h. 18m. End, 12h. 36m. Digits eclipsed, $0\frac{3}{10}$ on the northern limb.

IV. A total Eclipse of the Sun, on the 30th of Eleventh Month, invisible in North America; visible at Cape Horn and the South Pacific Ocean.

VENUS.

Venus will be Morning Star until the 10th of Seventh Month, then Evening Star the remainder of the year.

MERCURY.

Mercury will be brightest about the 27th of First Month, 24th of Fifth Month, and 18th of Ninth Month, at which times it will likely be visible, being then in the east just before sunrise. It will again be brightest about the 6th of Fourth Month, 4th of Eighth Month, and 30th of Eleventh Month, when it will be in the west immediately after sunset.

NOTES TO THE READER.

I. The astronomical calculations in this work are made to true clock time. The effects of Refraction, according to the latest improved Tables of Bessel, and the Equation of Time, have both been applied to the times of the Sun's rising and setting; so that the Almanac and a good Clock will agree the year round.

II. A Time-piece may be set very nearly true by the rising, setting, or southing of the Sun, Moon, or Stars; but more accurately by the Sun (or the southing of the Sun, or a fixed Star), anywhere on or near the 40th degree of north latitude.

III. The time of the rising, setting, or southing of a fixed Star, may be carried several days forward by subtracting, or backward by adding 4 minutes per day.

IV. The common day of 24 hours begins at midnight, and morning (marked morn.) continues from midnight till noon; and afternoon (marked aft.) continues from noon till midnight. This should be remembered carefully when looking for the times of the rising, setting, or southing of the Moon or Stars soon after midnight.

RISING, SETTING, AND SOUTHING OF THE PLANETS.

It should be observed that these are not sensibly affected by the longitude of a place. When the hour is less than six, it is in the morning; when greater than six, it is in the evening.

&c.,	&c.,	&c.,	&c.

The above list of topics, covering the whole range of Science, Literature and Art, shows the wonderful scope of the plan of this great undertaking. Although the matter contained in this work is scientifically accurate, it is yet deservedly called "popular." The articles are all clothed in the plainest language, and just enough is said on each subject to make the explanations perfectly plain without burdening the articles with tiresome words.

The work has been written from the latest and most accurate sources of information. All the latest discoveries of travellers, explorers, and scientific expeditions, government surveys and documents, official census reports, the latest and best histories and reports, the most authentic biographies of celebrated men, the latest researches of men of science, and everything that would add to the value of the work, has been examined, and when necessary, freely used.

There are over 2600 engravings, which serve to illustrate more fully than words can do all the articles in which a cut can be advantageously used.

The Encyclopedia is sold only by subscription. Specimen numbers will be sent on receipt of ten cents.

Neat French Lawns.

A New Atlas of the World.

ORIGINAL IN STYLE OF ENGRAVING, COLORING, LETTERING, AND GENERAL APPEARANCE.

An Index to every Map and a General Index to the whole Atlas.

ZELL'S DESCRIPTIVE HAND-ATLAS OF THE WORLD.

IN PREPARATION—NINE NUMBERS NOW READY.

BEAUTIFULLY ENGRAVED AND PRINTED IN COLORS, and to be issued in Twenty-five numbers, at 50 cents each as a companion to ZELL'S ENCYCLOPEDIA; commencing March, 1871, and to be completed during the year 1872. This will be

THE MOST ARTISTIC,

THE BEST,

THE MOST RELIABLE,

AND THE MOST RECENT.

No other Atlas in this country can approach it in beauty, finish, and reliability.

Each Map will have with it an ALPHABETICAL INDEX, containing every City, Town, County, River, Cape, Lake, Bay, &c., which occurs upon the Map, with directions whereby, in a moment, any place may be located upon the Map.

There will also be added a general index of all the names upon all the Maps.

That portion pertaining to the United States will be issued last, so as to include the census and all other information of 1870. The Maps, also, of France and Prussia will not be issued until the changes in boundaries, if any, are determined upon. That of Africa will contain recent discoveries not to be found upon any other atlas.

If the parts should exceed twenty-five, all over that number will be delivered Gratis to Subscribers.

Persons desiring to examine samples of the first Maps to be issued, may see them at the office of the Publisher. A sample number will be sent to any address upon the receipt of twenty-five cents.

WILLIAM PENN,

An eminent member of the Society of Friends and founder of the State of Pennsylvania, was the son of Sir William Penn, an English admiral, and was born at London, 13th of tenth month, 1644. He received a good education, which was completed at Christ Church, Oxford; but he disappointed his father's expectations by becoming a Friend, and was discarded by him. Sir William afterwards relented, and sent his son abroad. Young Penn visited France and Italy, and returned to his native country in 1664. He spent two years in the study of the law at Lincoln's Inn, and was then sent to Ireland to manage his father's estates; but, happening to hear a discourse at Cork, by Thomas Loe, a leading Quaker, he reverted to his former opinions, and travelled to propagate this new faith. He was taken up for preaching, and sent to prison; but was released through the interest of his father. After his return to

Has not yet found its equal for the combined qualities of Safety, Durability, Utility, and Economy.

We have the past season added a patent Flue, to pass the heat and flame around the boiler before reaching the stack. This Flue can be fitted to any Steamer of our make at trifling cost, and with it we are able to get up steam with 30 gallons of water in 30 minutes, by the use of 33 lbs. of wood, and a good fire remaining. This Steamer can be had of any responsible dealer, but if not found, address as below.

On his release, he resumed his former labors, and was apprehended, with some others, and tried for preaching at a conventicle in Gracechurch Street. The jury persisted in finding them not guilty, and were fined for acting contrary to the dictates of the judge. Admiral Penn was reconciled to his son before his death, and left him all his property. He continued firm in his attachment to the Society of Friends, and, in 1677, went on a mission to Holland and Germany, with Fox and Barclay. In 1681 he obtained from the Crown, in lieu of the arrears due to his father, the grant of the province in North America, and it was Charles II who, in honor of Penn, proposed the name Pennsylvania. code of laws which Penn prepared for the province was exalted in aim, comprehensive in scope; yet with slender exceptions, its details were marvellously practical, and if Penn had not the genius of the ruler, he had, as few have had, the genius of the legislator. Accompanied by emigrants, Penn set sail from Deal on the 5th of ninth month, 1682, for America, whither a voyage of nine weeks brought him. The work of organization under Penn's vigorous and sagacious guidance rapidly proceeded. A few Swedes and Dutch had previously settled in Pennsylvania, but colonists from most various regions of the Old World now poured in. Universal toleration was proclaimed, a charter of liberties was solemnly consecrated and a democratic government was established. In his dealings with the Indians and their chiefs, Penn manifested his accustomed magnanimity and justice. The capital city, Philadelphia, was planned on a scale commensurate with Pennsylvania's expected greatness. Penn's family was in England. Hearing that his wife was ill; hearing that his friend Algernon Sidney had perished on the scaffold; hearing that the fury of fanaticism was rivalling with the fury of vice; he, intrusting his unfinished undertakings to such men as he deemed competent, hurried anxiously back. During the reign of James II, Penn was continually at court, yet from no selfish or servile reasons. James had been his father's friend, and he had always been glad and prompt to help Penn himself. Penn therefore entered the palace that he might give the king wise counsels, and counsels tending toward mercy. Confiding both in Penn's fidelity and skill, James commissioned him to visit the Prince of Orange at the Hague, to ascertain the Prince's views on some points, to furnish him with clearer, correcter notions on others,—a mission in which Penn succeeded indifferently. overthrow of James was in more than one respect a misfortune for Penn. In the spring of 1690 he was arrested on the charge of holding treasonable correspondence with the dethroned monarch. The absurdity of the charge being swiftly and glaringly evident, Penn was set at liberty. Yet, though his conduct continued to be blameless, he was, by an order in council, stripped, third month 14th, 1692, of his title to the Pennsylvanian government, a tyrannical act involving his utter ruin; for, besides that he had risked his whole substance in the Pennsylvanian experiment, his estates, both in England and in Ireland, had been grievously mismanaged by incompetent or dishonest overseers. An order in council capriciously restored to Penn, in 1694, that Pennsylvanian Government of which an order in council had so capriciously robbed him. But the ownership of territories so extensive was almost barren to him. His agents were faithless, and the colonists, though profuse in 1860-1867.

CHAS. W. PACKER'S IMPROVED ICE CREAM FREEZERS,

PATENTED

Sectional View, showing
Interior of Freezers.

A large number of Testimonials might be offered in recommendation of these Freezers, but the fact that they are now sold by the leading houses in all the principal cities in this country, and also numbers of them are exported every year, is a sufficient guarantee of their excellence. No expense is spared to render them perfect, and recently improvements have been introduced in the manufacture, by which increased strength, durability, and neatness are secured. They are made in the most substantial manner, none but the best materials are used in their construction, and the mechanical arrangements are such that they will freeze Cream, Fruits, or Water Ices, in the shortest possible time.

Sizes—2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 15, and 25 Quarts.

expressions of regard, were in reality ungrateful and grasping. A visit to his Irish estates preluded Penn's second expedition to the New World. His family went with him to America, though rather from necessity than choice. Penn's residence in the colony was more beneficial to the colonists than to himself. He suggested, he promoted, many reforms; above all, he inculcated and gave the example of that humane spirit in which he was so far before his age. He branded as iniquitous negro slavery, and to the aged, the sick, and the destitute he was a bountiful almoner. In 1701 he returned to England, and, being encumbered with debts, endeavored to negotiate the sale of Pennsylvania to the crown for £12,000. This negotiation was interrupted in 1712, through his being attacked by an apoplectic fit, which, happening twice afterwards, greatly impaired his mental faculties. He survived for six years longer, but with a constitution much shattered, and quite unfitted for any serious employment. Penn died on the 29th of seventh month, 1718; and he was buried at the village of Jordan, Buckinghamshire. Recent attacks on this great man have been victoriously refuted. Free from frailty no man is; free from vanity perhaps Penn was not. But his integrity is unimpeachable. Penn cried "No Cross, no Crown." He bore the cross, and let us not snatch from him the crown, which the unanimous veneration of mankind has bestowed. Penn was twice married, and he left several children, to whom he bequeathed his estates in England, Ireland, and what remained to him in America. The government and quirents of Pennsylvania devolved to the sons of the second marriage, and by their heirs were sold to the State of Pennsylvania, after the War of Independence, for $650,000. Montesquieu calls Penn "the modern Lycurgus." Penn wrote a number

PROVERBS OF SOLOMON.

One of the sacred books of the Old Testament ascribed to Solomon. The Hebrew term translated proverbs means literally a similitude or comparison of two objects, and this is the form that most of them take. Solomon, we are told, uttered 3000 proverbs; but it has been doubted whether he ever made any collection of them in writing; and it is expressly stated that the latter part of the book, beginning with chapter 25, was written and added by order of King Hezekiah. The title shows the author rather than the compiler. It has hardly ever been contended that a large share in the composition of the book is to be ascribed to the Wise King; and the divine authority of the book is sufficiently proved by the quotations made from it in the New Testament. In all ages this book has been regarded as a great storehouse of practical wisdom. It naturally divides itself into several parts. The first seven verses of the first chapter may be regarded as a heading to the rest of the book. Then begins the first part, which constitutes a sort of proem or exordium, and closes with the end of the ninth chapter. It may be described as a series of connected admonitions in a sententious form, written in the highest style of poetry, and adorned with apt, beautiful, and striking illustrations. Wisdom is here personified with indescribable majesty and grace, and love is here inculcated, and her rewards set forth, together with the pernicious consequences that follow her rejection. The second part, which constitutes the chief portion of the book, and is the strictly proverbial portion, extends from chapter 10 to 22:16. The proverbs, about 400 in num-with the heading, "These are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah, king of Judah, copied out." The proverbs here, as in the former part, generally consist of one verse of two parallel opposing members; but they are less plain and intelligible, and frequently obscure. They extend over five chapters. The thirtieth chapter contains the words of Agur, and the thirty-first the counsels addressed to King Lemuel by his mother. Who these persons were is not known. That Lemuel is another name for Solomon is conjecture that has little of probability to support it.

TIDE.

The alternate rising and falling of the waters of the ocean, which is to be observed on all its coast and estuaries, is called the tide. The rising is designated as the flood and the highest elevation as high water; the falling is termed the ebb, and the lowest depression low water. The duration of high and low water, without apparent change of level, is known as the stand; and the cessation of the ebb and flood streams, or tidal currents, is called slack water. The popular explanation of the tide, as depending on the law of gravitation, is sufficiently simple. If the earth be conceived to be wholly or in a great degree covered with water, and subject to the attraction of the sun, the force of which is inversely as the square of the distance, it will be obvious that, while the whole earth will fall towards the sun with a velocity proportioned to the aggregate attraction upon its solid portions, the water nearest to the sun being accelerated with a greater force, will approach the sun more rapidly than the solid core; it will thus run from all sides into a protuberance beyond the form of equilibrium of the earth's attraction and rotation, until the pressure of the elevated mass equals the difference in the attraction of the sun. Moreover, a similar protuberance will be formed on the side opposite to the sun, since the particles of water, being solicited by a less force than the solid core, will fall more slowly towards the sun, and, as it were, remain behind. The same considerations hold good in regard to the attraction of the moon upon the earth, and the waters surrounding it. As a necessary consequence of the elevation of the water in the regions nearest to and most remote attracting body, there must be a corresponding depression below the mean level of the sea at points distant 90° from the vertices of the protuberances, or at the sides of the earth, as seen from the sun or moon. The high tides are two great waves or swells of small height, but extending each way through half a right angle; these waves follow the moon in its monthly motion round the earth, while the earth, turning on its axis, causes any given place to pass through each of these swells and the intervening depressions in a lunar day, or 24 hours 50 minutes. At new and full moon, when the sun's and moon's actions conspire, the tides are highest, and are called spring tides; but at the first and last quarters of the moon the action on one body tends to counteract that of the other, and the tides, both at ebb and flow, are smallest, and are called neap tides.

ASSETS OVER ~~$~~1,250,000.

LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA.

INCORPORATED BY THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA,
THIRD MONTH 22D, 1865.

The Directors refer, with especial gratification, to the condition of the Company at this time. Adhering to the high standard for the examination of risks adopted at the organization of the Company, and pursuing a prudent and moderate course in its efforts to attract new business, it now occupies a place in the front rank of American companies. The large excess of its assets over liabilities; its very low rate of mortality; its constantly decreasing expenses, and the safety of its investments, entitle it to the full confidence of its members and the public.

The Provident is expressly required by its Charter to divide every dollar of surplus among its Policy-Holders. It is, therefore, strictly mutual.

Organized and managed exclusively by Friends, and represented almost exclusively by Friends as agents, it has a larger proportion of Friends among its Policy-Holders than any other company in the United States.

PRESIDENT,
SAMUEL R. SHIPLEY.

VICE-PRESIDENT,
WM. C. LONGSTRETH.

ACTUARY,
ROWLAND PARRY.

AGENTS WANTED. AN EASY COMPANY TO SOLICIT FOR.
